

MEMORY PLACE FOR ME AND MY FAMILY

Sofia Vissarionova

Estonia

When I was eleven me and my family thought of having a trip to the capital of Great Britain, London.

The trip went just as planned, we were having fun together while walking down the streets and exploring interesting museums and art galleries.

My brother Daniil has told us many stories about his life in London while he was living there for the past few years.(he still does live there)

There were so many different memories, so many different places discover.

By let me tell you about our second trip. The funniest thing that ever happened to us is that time when me and my mother got lost somewhere in Kingstone streets, but somehow my brother managed to find us pretty quickly.

Here is some photos from my brother`s room-→

VERY PRETTY ,RIGHT?

You may actually think that I could pick up much more interesting and exciting place, such as National History Museum of London or the café where my brother has been working for a long time.

But this not very big room is may be not that frightening for you, but this is the best place to just feel comfortable and calm, I would say this is the best place to feel yourself .
